The Deep End. All are Invited to the Banquet

@intercom

In today's Gospel, Jesus uses the image of a great banquet to explain God's vision for our world. He speaks of a place where those who consider themselves entitled to the highest seats at the table take the low seats. He urges us to invite the poor, the lame and the blind to this celebration. Jesus encourages us to turn the world upside down in a reversal, an upheaval, where the preferred option is for the poor, and those considered least in society.

Today is an important day, as we begin the Season of Creation (from 1st September until the feast of St. Francis on 4th October). Pope Francis asks all Christians to embrace this season in prayer, in living more sustainably and in raising our voices in the public sphere. We are invited to think more deeply about what is happening at present to the Earth, the environmental destruction which now threatens our world, our common home. The theme this year is "The Web of Life." The most vulnerable among us are suffering most deeply as this web of life begins to unravel. Our faith calls us to respond to this crisis with urgency. Let us hear the Gospel message today, where we are called to consider those on the margins, including those most at risk from climate change, and let us commit to working towards a world where all are seated at the banquet.

World Day of Prayer for the Care of Creation

One of the most noticeable new changes to the Ireland's landscape in the last few years has been the introduction of wind turbines on many hilltop throughout the country. At heights of over 80 meters, many are placed on exposed, elevated heights, so they need really good foundations to make sure that they stay standing. Sometimes, a wind turbine needs a foundation almost as deep as it is tall, so it is a metaphor for the importance of having a good foundation and being well rooted, especially when we reach for the heights. Today's readings are about humility. Humility means to be well rooted, to be grounded in the truth of who we are, where we come from and the heights of holiness and selfless love to which we are called to ascend. Humility gives us a good foundation in whatever path we choose to follow in life. Jesus tells his disciples to make their way to the lowest place, 'to be happy to associate with the poor, so that they have a good foundation in what the realization of our common shared humanity with every person, no matter what their standing in life. Our lives are then rooted in the deepest truth of this life, that of the primary importance of love of God and neighbor. In a way similar to a wind turbine's need for deep foundations, we can listen to the advice of St Augustine, who wrote, 'Do you wish to rise? Begin by descending. You plan a tower that will pierce the clouds? Lay first the foundation of humility.'
